

Jennifer Lewis Clouse loved God, loved His Word and loved people. She loved because He first loved her. (1 John 4:19). Whether you just met her, or knew Jen for years, she always made you feel known and loved. She shared her life with you and invited you to share yours with her. Above all, Jen wanted you to know her Savior and grow to trust in Him.

Jen would have never chosen a journey with cancer but walked faithfully, continually entrusting her life to the Lord's plan. She would want you to be encouraged that God chose you to be a part of His plan as you faithfully prayed and ministered to her and her family.

Jen will be remembered for her teaching of God's Word. Most recently, as Jen prepared her heart for eternity, she studied what the Word says about Heaven. Her excitement overflowed into a desire to share of the hope that awaits. Through the Word of God and Jen's thoughts on her blog, we pray you will share in that hope.

Our family has been overwhelmed by the expressions of love and support you have provided throughout this journey. We believe you have been a part of our story but also part of His bigger story {for such a time as this}. You have participated with God in sustaining us with your love and encouragement. You have truly been the hands and feet of Jesus, whom Jennifer walks with today. LOVE — SCOTT, LINCOLN & JANE
